PRESIDENTS NOTE

Once again the Christmas period is almost upon us & that means another year nearly finished. We have had another successful year with outings well attended & new members joining the ranks.

We look forward to seeing many of you at our Christmas function in December so get your bookings in early. It is always a great event. There is also the visit to the X-ray Container Unit at North Fremantle this month. All of our functions this year have been well attended & as a committee we look forward to organising more.

To all our members who may be ailing in this year may your pains ease with the knowledge that we, your friends & second family, think of you often whenever we meet & discuss the past, & our prayers go with you all. 🙏

God bless, Trevor Smart

Harry Wills 31.8.1925 to 8.10.2006

One of our esteemed and long serving committee members Harry Wills passed away on 8/10/06 after a long and tragic illness, with his devoted wife Pat and family by his side. Harry had a tedious battle with cancer over many years but he fought valiantly and successfully survived several periods of remission. On the last occasion, earlier this year, he and Pat were so confident about Harry's apparent recovery that they embarked on yet another ambitious holiday to U.K. That country seems to have been their favourite holiday destination, and typical of Harry's meticulous planning skills, he had collected over many years a comprehensive list of accommodation addresses, which at times he was able to share with other RCOA members. Sadly, after only a few days away, Harry found it necessary to seek medical advice, and was given the opinion that he should return home forthwith.

The funeral was held at Karrakatta Crematorium on Friday October 13th and on that delightful spring day Harry was farewelled by a large crowd of family and friends. Each of his two sons Robert & Richard gave eulogies and from their comments, it was most obvious that Harry was a much loved father, husband and friend of many. There was a large group of former Customs Officers in attendance mostly RCOA members, and some of us hadn't seen each other for a long time. We all enjoyed being in each others company again although at such a sad occasion. Harry would have been very pleased to know that his colleagues were happy to be with each other, at his funeral. After 20 years as a committee person, including several years as president, and with his well deserved appointment as Life Member, it seems certain that Harry's bright personality and his obvious management skills will be missed by the RCOA for a long time to come.

Farewell Harry on your new journey, and our deepest sympathy to Pat and family.

News of Members

Connie Hughes wrote to us - I recently had a wonderful weekend away with Guide Trefoil. The name means - those ladies who formally were Guide Leaders or held some position in the Guide Movement, have since retired & are glad to meet up once a year at a State gathering. Each Trefoil group entertains in some way & groups from all over the State try to attend, we take it in turns. This year we were based at the Armadale Hotel from Friday August 18th to Sunday 20th. During that time we had excellent food, an AGM, entertainment, camp fire, guest speakers etc. But best of all we visited by bus to Roleystone, Serpentine & Araluen where we saw hundreds of daffodils, tulips & of course the glorious bushland. How fantastic for us of mature years to meet up with friends, talk of our Guide days & the Guides, Brownies etc & to be fed as well, to be entertained & see each such glorious scenery, all within easy reach of our various homes or villages.

Brian Jost has recently had an operation on his right knee, he massacred / tore his cartilage meniscus. He is hoping to be fully recovered for their next pilgrimage / cultural exchange to Thailand (40th time since 1978) & Vietnam Saigon (first time). We shall enjoy reading about their ventures on their return.

Once again, we do know of members who are/have been unwell but respect their request for privacy. We wish you all a speedy recovery & good health. 🙏

Articles from our Members

Just a bit about Me - Max Gerreyn

I worked for the ACS from August 31st 1982 to June 16th 1999 when I retired with a very modest VR. What the hell, I was then 62 years 'young' and lets face it the ACS was no more that which it was in 82. However I honestly enjoyed my near 17 years of service and made many great friends. Changed as it has, I still believe that even in this 2006 the ACS is an excellent career pursuit for young people. Hell - I was a month over 45 when I joined! Prior to joining ACS in an earlier life (back in my old COB of Sri Lanka) I had been a free-lance cartoonist and artist when I moonlighted for the English medium newspapers back in the mid 60's to late 70's when I migrated to WA. And so it was for practically from the onset of my taking up duties in 1982 as an Accounts Clerk at the old Vets Affairs 'spook house' in William Street Perth to retiring as a Band 2 Boarding Officer monitoring incoming and outgoing flights in Admin at PIA I found time to sketch and cartoon dozens of my colleagues and raise and share many a laugh with the girls and the boys. Of course between sketching and cartooning I did also find time to do some work!. However it was when I was in Freo that I did the feature caricatures of ex officers who retired or resigned at the really happy Sundowners that finished the working week on a Friday nominated for the occasion. My A4 and sometimes A3 sized doodles were sticky-taped by the ruling Social Club honchos all over the building and were very favourably commented on by the featured individuals and the brokers and agents that bustled through those great swinging doors. Electronic Only access and other high tech security measures were a few years off then and 'terrorist' was a word that had yet to become a jest that a switched on mike picked up and cause a near diplomatic crisis! At one of the final Sundowners that I was myself present good old Rich Dingli presented me with a bottle of Grants for my years of cartoon service. That bottle cost under $19 at that time and today you are lucky if you can get it on 'special' for under $27 - and here we are whingeing about the price of petrol! Come on mate get your priorities in order!

When I was moved to the Post firstly at Stirling Street in Perth, then to Pilbara Street in Welshpool and finally to Admin at the airport I was still 'commissioned' to do my cartoons for occasions and I thoroughly enjoyed the privilege. When I took my VR along with about a dozen other or more retirees at Sundowners in Freo I handed over a bundle of the 'originals' to that Archivist of no mean repute - good ole Clayton 'Tiger' Roberts. I've since been informed that Clayton has pulled the plug too so where are old 'masterpieces' now? Only kidding!

HONG KONG, CANADA, ALASKA

How fortunate we are at our age to have the health and means to travel whether be it 500km or 5000km. There are so many wonderful places to visit, within our own or some foreign country.

We elected for a foreign shore, a place where neither of us had been, CANADA & ALASKA. A Canadian Rocky Mountain tour followed by an Inland Passage cruise to parts of Alaska with a 3 day stop over in Hong Kong. Our chosen Tour Operator was Scenic Tours and not one with which we had any previous experience. They are an Australian company whose headquarters are in Newcastle, N S W. & as we found out they are a very big tour operator in Canada. We chose well. They proved to be a great company to tour with as explained later.

The Hong Kong 3 - day stop over (going) was primarily to cut down the travel time. It was a wonderful break. Hong Kong has a lot to offer any visitor either there or as a stepping off point. It is a safe city. It, for all its people and traffic, is still not a place where you have to rush for a tram, train or ferry, there is another one only a minute or so away. The right change, or card and a seniors rate makes for very economical travel. For the cost conscious traveller the ferries offer a free service for seniors.

The Stanley Markets, to me, are an 'up market' and hassle free version of the Bali markets. Good value and better quality according to Judy who had me buy 2 Greg Norman polo neck golf shirts @ $A9.00 each. To date they have survived several washes without loss of colour or shape. Apart from my 2 bargains 'Grandma' found it a paradise for kids clothes. Thank goodness they do not take up too much room. The only way to go there is on the upper deck of a double decker bus. It is a scenic roller coaster ride. The 'Peak Tram' is the same as it was years ago, but not so the peak it is a food and shoppers paradise, ask Judy. It was shoes this time.

This time we stayed in Kowloon and glad we did for all our own reasons. One was our Hotel, which offered us, what we believe was good value and a better choice of meals. Both breakfast and dinner were a Smorgasbord. What a presentation. I can cook a good omelette so we added to our compulsory cereal and fruit juice at breakfast some Asian and European delights. Dinner was even better. We thought we ate well, including raw fish and snails (in garlic), Western, European and Asian until we observed the slim and petite little Chinese girls fill their plates. And fill they did, several times even more so with desserts, especially with strawberries and marshmallows dipped in chocolate.

There are a number of places to visit and none more pleasant, than a walk, at night, along the foreshore (promenade) in Kowloon, to the left of the ferry terminal. It is a wonderland of colour with the lights of the buildings across the water to Hong Kong and the many brightly lit ferries and restaurant boats that pass by. Here too are many ideally located restaurants, too many to try on this trip.

Three days passed all too soon. Ahead of us was the main adventure but first we had to do the airport bit of queue and queue. Security causes queues but nothing like we were to learn later of the queues at American Airports. Several years ago I passed through the old airport en route to UK and return several months later to a 2 week old new airport, with a lot of teething problems. Not so now. It is a magnificent airport with its shops; food outlets, comfortable rest areas and a computer driven (underground) train to take you half way across the Airport

Hong Kong to Vancouver is approx 13 hours flying time so add to that the getting there time and the customary procedures (no pun intended) at the arrivals end and a few hours have transpired (& so had we). Also we were back a day. At Vancouver Airport we were greeted by a representative of our tour company (Scenic Tours). He made us most welcome and proudly introduced us to his fair city en route to our accommodation. Vancouver is a beautiful city, which for us was the stepping off point for the most wonderful 22-day holiday. Too be continued...

How Times have changed in the last fifty years!!

The following article was originally published in the May 13th 1955 edition of 'Housekeeping Monthly' under the title 'The Good Wife's Guide'.

- Have dinner ready. Plan ahead, even the night before, to have a delicious meal ready, on time for his return. This is a way of letting him know that you have been thinking about him and are concerned about his needs. Most men are hungry when they come home and the prospect of a good meal [especially his favourite dish] is part of the warm welcome needed.

- Prepare yourself. Take 15 minutes to rest so you'll be refreshed when he arrives. Touch up your make-up, put a ribbon in your hair and be fresh looking. He has just been with a lot of work-weary people.
- Be a little gay and a little more interesting for him. His boring day may need a lift and one of your duties is to provide it.
- Clear away any clutter. Make one last trip through the main part of the house just before your husband arrives.
- Gather up school books, toys, paper etc and run a dust cloth over the tables.
- Over the cooler months of the year you should prepare and light a fire for him to unwind by. Your husband will feel that he has reached a haven of rest and order, and it will give you a lift too. After all, catering for his comfort will provide you with immense personal satisfaction.
- Prepare the children. Take a few minutes to wash the children's hands and faces [if they are small], comb their hair and change their clothes. They are little treasures and he would like to see them playing the part. Minimise all noise. At the time of his arrival eliminate all noise of the washer, dryer or vacuum. Try to encourage the children to be quiet.
- Be happy to see him.
- Greet him with a warm smile and show sincerity in your desire to please him.
- Listen to him. You may have a dozen important things to tell him, but the moment of his arrival is not the time. Let him talk first - remember, his topics of conversation are more important than yours.
- Make the evening his. Never complain if he comes home late or goes out to dinner, or other places of entertainment without you. Instead, try to understand his world of strain and pressure and his very real need to be at home and relax.
- Your goal: Try to make sure your home is a place of peace and tranquillity where your husband can renew himself in body and spirit.
- Don't greet him with complaints and problems.
- Don't complain if he is late home for dinner or even if he stays out all night. Count this as minor compared to what he might have gone through that day.
- Make him comfortable. Have him lean back in a comfortable chair or have him lie down in the bedroom. Have a cool or warm drink ready for him.
- Arrange his pillow and offer to take off his shoes. Speak in a low, soothing and pleasant voice.
- Don't ask him questions about his actions or question his judgement or integrity. Remember, he is the master of the house and as such will always exercise his will with fairness and truthfulness. You have no right to question him.
- A good wife always knows her place!

The Squirrel & the Grasshopper

Rest of the world version:

The squirrel works hard in the withering heat all summer long, building and improving his house and laying up supplies for the winter. The Grasshopper thinks he's a fool, and laughs and dances and plays the summer away. Come winter, the squirrel is warm and well fed. The shivering grasshopper has no food or shelter, so he dies out in the cold. THE END

The Australian version:

The squirrel works hard in the withering heat all summer long, building his house and laying up supplies for the winter. The grasshopper thinks he's a fool, and laughs and dances and plays the summer away. Come winter, the squirrel is warm and well fed. A social worker finds the shivering grasshopper, calls a press conference and demands to know why the squirrel should be allowed to be warm and well fed while others less fortunate, like the grasshopper, are cold and starving. The ABC shows up to provide live coverage of the shivering grasshopper; with cuts to a video of the squirrel in his comfortable warm home with a table laden with food. The Australian press informs people that they should be ashamed that in a country of such wealth, this poor grasshopper is allowed to suffer so while others have plenty. The Labour Party, Greenpeace, Animal Rights and The Grasshopper Council of Australia demonstrate in front of the squirrel's house. The ABC, interrupting a cultural festival special from St Kilda with breaking news, broadcasts a multi cultural choir singing "We Shall Overcome". Bill Shorten rants in an interview with Laurie Oakes that the squirrel has gotten rich off the backs of grasshoppers, and calls for an immediate tax hike on the squirrel to make him pay his 'fair share' and increases the charge for squirrels to enter Melbourne city centre. In response to pressure from the media, the Government drafts the Economic Equity and Grasshopper Anti Discrimination Act, retroactive to the beginning of the summer. The squirrels' taxes are reassessed. He is taken to court and fined for failing to hire grasshoppers as builders, for the work he was doing on his home and an additional fine for contempt when he told the court the grasshopper did not want to work. The grasshopper is provided with a council house, financial aid to furnish it and an account with a local taxi firm to ensure he can be socially mobile. The squirrel's food is seized and re distributed to the more needy members of society, in this case the grasshopper. Without enough money to buy more food, to pay the fine and his newly imposed retroactive taxes, the squirrel has to downsize and start building a new home. The local authority takes over his old home and utilises it as a temporary home for asylum seeking cats who had hijacked a plane to get to Australia as they had to share their country of origin with mice. On arrival they tried to blow up the airport because of Australians apparent love of dogs. The cats had been arrested for the international offence of hijacking and attempted bombing but were immediately released because the police fed them pilchards instead of salmon whilst in custody. Initial moves to then return them to their own country were abandoned because it was feared they would face death by the mice. The cats devise and start a scam to obtain money from peoples credit cards. A 60 Minutes special shows the grasshopper finishing up the last of the squirrels' food, though spring is still months away, while the council house he is in, crumbles around him because he hasn't bothered to maintain the house. He is shown to be taking drugs. Inadequate government funding is blamed for the grasshopper's drug 'Illness'. The cats seek recompense in the Australian courts for their treatment since arrival in Australia. The grasshopper gets arrested for stabbing an old dog during a burglary to get money for his drugs habit. He is imprisoned but released immediately because he has been in custody for a few weeks. He is placed in the care of the probation service to monitor and supervise him. Within a few weeks he has killed a guinea pig in a botched robbery. A commission of enquiry, that will eventually cost $10,000,000 and State the obvious, is set up. Additional money is put into funding a drug rehabilitation scheme for grasshoppers and legal aid for lawyers representing asylum seekers is increased. The asylum seeking cats are praised by the government for enriching Australia's multicultural diversity and dogs are criticised by the government for failing to befriend the cats. The grasshopper dies of a drug overdose. The usual sections of the press blame it on the obvious failure of government to address the root causes of despair arising from social inequity and his traumatic experience of prison. They call for the resignation of a minister. The cats are paid a million pounds each because their rights were infringed when the government failed to inform them there were mice in Australia. The squirrel, the dogs and the victims of the hijacking, the bombing, the burglaries and robberies have to pay an additional percentage on their credit cards to cover losses, their taxes are increased to pay for law and order and they are told that they will have to work beyond 65 because of a shortfall in government funds. THE END

Lighter Moments

A Polish immigrant went to the DMV to apply for a driver's license. First, of course, he had to take an eye sight test. The optician showed him a card with the letters: 'C Z W I X N O S T A C Z.' "Can you read this?" the optician asked. "Read it?" the Polish guy replied, "I know the guy."

Wildflower Trip

Six of our members went to Dongara in September visiting the local sites including wildflowers, towns, craft shops etc. The trip was enjoyed by all. Unfortunately they had to send a search party to find the wild flowers as they were scarce due to the change of weather. However, they reported that the sights were great & were not crowded out by many tourists. They endeavour to go away again next year.

Last but not Least

- ◆ This is the last issue of 'Duty Freed' for 2006

Answers to the Brain Teasers in the August Issue

- ◆ It is her job, she is a Justice of the Peace or a Minister
 - ◆ You have 2 apples. There are 3 left on the counter but you have 2
 - ◆ The match of course!
 - ◆ It has to be Johnny, he is the third child
 - ◆ $1898 is one more silver dollar than $1897
 - ◆ One, he may have many birthdays but only one birth day
 - ◆ You cannot take a photo with hair curlers, you need a camera
 - ◆ Mum, mother or whatever you call your maternal relative
- ◆ 'Dad's Army' is being boosted by some new (old) recruits. I am not sure who they all are yet, so will advice next issue.
